

QR51m project to boost street lighting

08 November 2010

DOHA: The Maintenance and Operations Department of the Public Works Authority (Ashghal) is executing two maintenance projects which includes fixing light holders in different parts of the country.

The QR51m projects will include modernising the current street lighting and replacing broken light holders. Ashghal will also set up an advanced central room to control lighting at different times of the day.